2019 Library Lovers' Day story writing competition: terms and conditions

By entering this competition, you agree to the below terms and conditions:

This is a game of skill. Chance plays no part in determining the winner. Each entry will be individually judged by staff at the Australian Library and Information Association. Personal details and content will not be provided to a 3rd party.

To enter your story in our Library Lovers' Day 2019 competition, send us a story of 200 words or less written from the prompt 'there was love to be found in the library'.

Submissions should be sent through in a word or basic text document in a standard font and size and are open to everyone. Submissions are due by 5:00pm AEDT on 21 February 2019.

Please email entries to media@alia.org.au or post to 9-11 Napier Close Deakin 2600.

Winners will be chosen at the sole discretion of ALIA and will be notified in early May.

By entering into the competition, you agree to give ALIA the right to publish the work in its entirety for promotional purposes online and in print.

Copyright of the work remains with the author.

By submitting your content, you agree that

- Your submission is offered without restriction.
- ALIA has unlimited right to publish, use, modify and publicly display and disseminate the content for the purposes of Library Lovers' Day and Library Information Week promotion in all media without limitation seeking additional approval.
- You confirm that the content you submit is your own/original and that if any 3rd party content has been submitted, you have sought and obtained any necessary permissions.

The competition is open to everyone.

Contest opens 4 January 2019 and closes 5pm AEDT 21 February 2019.
